Song of the Month

Holy is the Lord

—[Verse:1]—

We stand and lift up our hands,
For the joy of the Lord is our strength.

We bow down and worship Him now;
How great, how awesome is He.

—[Pre-Chorus:1]—

And together we sing,
Ev'ryone sing:

—[Chorus:1]—

Holy is the Lord God Almighty;
The earth is filled with His glory.
Holy is the Lord God Almighty;
The earth is filled with His glory.
The earth is filled with His glory.

—[Verse:1]—

We stand and lift up our hands,
For the joy of the Lord is our strength.

We bow down and worship Him now;
How great, how awesome is He.

—[Pre-Chorus:1]—

—[Chorus:1]—

—[Chorus:2]—

It is rising up all around,
It's the anthem of the Lord's renown.
It's rising up all around;
It's the anthem of the Lord's renown.

—[Pre-Chorus:1]—

—[Chorus:1]—

“We quickly learn that God is more interested in our holiness than in our comfort. He more greatly delights in the integrity and purity of his church than in the material well-being of its members. He shows himself more clearly to men and women who enjoy him and obey him than to men and women whose horizons revolve around good jobs, nice houses, and reasonable health. He is far more committed to building a corporate “temple” in which his Spirit dwells than he is in preserving our reputations. He is more vitally disposed to display his grace than to flatter our intelligence. He is more concerned for justice than for our ease. He is more deeply committed to stretching our faith than our popularity. He prefers that his people live in disciplined gratitude and holy joy rather than in pushy self-reliance and glitzy happiness. He wants us to pursue daily death, not self-fulfillment, for the latter leads to death, while the former leads to life. These essential values of the gospel must shape our praying, as they shape Paul's. Indeed, they become the ground for our praying (“For this reason . . . I pray”): it is a wonderful comfort, a marvelous boost to faith, to know that you are praying in line with the declared will of almighty God.”
